Local Items.

BUTTER.—A large amount of butter was brought into our market today, and prices ranged lower than last week. A few prime lots brought 30 cents per pound, but the highest point usually touched was 28 cents, and 25 cents was the lower limit. Not much cheese was brought in, and prices ranged from 10 to 15 cents.

THE PULPIT of the Congregational Church at Milton is for the present being supplied by Rev. A. J. SAMUELSON, of St. Albans.

FOUND.—A small sum of money was found in the store of Messrs. Barre & Crowley on Tuesday last. The owner can recover the same by giving satisfactory evidence of ownership.

AMHERST COLLEGE.—At the commencement this year the orator engaged for the Phi Beta Kappa Society is Prof. Francis Marsh, of Lafayette College, Pa. Rev. J. M. Manning, of Boston, will address the Society of Inquiry.

[For the Daily Transcript.]
Obstructing the Way.

Your paragraph about "Obstructing the Way" commends itself to all pedestrians who do not care to wade knee-deep in mud; and I hope you will keep regitating the subject until the matter is righted. Leaving teams across the crossings of streets is fast becoming a very great nuisance; and why is it not abated by the authorities? Where are our policemen? A. SUFFERER.

CLARK VS. BURTON.—The motion for a new trial in this case has been withdrawn, and the case goes to the supreme Court on exceptions.

We have been careful in giving the usual "news" notices of this case to avoid any appearance of partisanship, holding it to be a duty not to meddle with any case during its trial; but even the short and as we think wholly fair notices we have given have proved faulty in the minds of some. We approve heartily of that professional care which excludes "outsiders" from any examination of the papers pertaining to a case, during the pending of the case, and have therefore respected entirely in our action that proper caution of Court and Attorneys, and have endeavored only to give fairly, as we shall continue to do, "the news."

NEW STAGE ARRANGEMENT.—Our friend, Mr. H. J. Jenson, the enterprising and obliging proprietor of the stage lines running from St. Albans, East, has purchased the handsome stage team that it has ever been our privilege to see in St. Albans, and commenced running a daily line of stages between here and Sheldon. The coach will leave St. Albans every day at 2 o'clock, p.m., arriving at Sheldon at 4 o'clock p.m. Leave Sheldon at 8 o'clock a.m. Arriving at St. Albans at 10 a.m. The travel between St. Albans and Sheldon promises to be unusually large this summer, and we hope the "Major" will be well paid for the trouble and expense he is incurring to accommodate it in the best possible manner.

THE SPRINKLER.—If "coming events cast their shadows before," and if the rain of the few past days is the "shadow" of that "coming event," the street sprinkler, then we infer that the sprinkler is one of the most efficient that ever laid the dust of a city—that it would, in fact, answer for a desert. The following from the Free Press shows us what we may calculate upon between showers in St. Albans during the summer:

It might be supposed that the streets were wet enough, just now, but despite the prevailing opinion on that subject we saw a street-sprinkler at work this morning! On inquiry it appeared that the machine was one just made for St. Albans by G. S. Blodgett & Co., of this City, and that they were only testing it before sending away. It holds 200 gallons, and sprinkled beautifully. St. Albans streets will be to be envied, in dusty times.

NEW BILLIARD SALOON.—There is no denying that the game of billiards is one of the most fashionable that is played now-a-days, and those who even ten years ago looked upon it with suspicion, now regard it as an innocent and healthy amusement. Of course, like all other games of amusement it can be carried to excess which should be avoided. We are led to these remarks from a recent visit to a new billiard saloon opened on Centre Street, just below the Drug Store of Mr. R. Brainerd, by Mr. J. Reagan. It is by far the most recherche institution of the kind there is in the state. There are three tables, one on the first floor, and two on the second floor, of Phelan's most improved make. The furniture of the rooms is in keeping with the tables; and especially noticeable is the bar furniture which is really elegant and not to be found outside of our largest cities. Mr. John J. Barnard is the attentive "master of ceremonies" and he and Mr. Reagan will endeavor to keep a quiet and orderly place where "billiardists" may enjoy a pleasant leisure hour.

CURIOUS CONFESSION.—A short time since a young man, evidently not in prosperous circumstances, and a stranger in this place, called at the First National Bank, in this place, and informed the Cashier that three men, whom he partially described, had offered him one-fourth of the plunder if he would aid them in robbing the bank. This, he said, he declined to do. He said the plan was to open the bank to them in the night, and the robbery was to take place on the night of Saturday, May 16. The information was imparted to the bank officers previous to the contemplated robbery, and a close watch was kept, but no attempt has yet been made upon the bank, and it is pretty certain that one would have been quite useless. The informer gave his residence as Montpelier, and that of those who proposed to him as Boston. He also gave what is supposed to be a fictitious name. The whole affair is a little curious, as he asked nothing for his information, and left immediately after giving it, and has not been seen since in town.

Incomes.

The following is a list of incomes upon which taxes are paid in the counties of Franklin, Grand Isle, and Lamoille, and accurately compiled by us from the official returns. Incomes of one thousand dollars and under are exempt by law from taxation, so that the amounts furnished below for publication are additional to one thousand dollars. With the editor of one our exchanges, we are of the opinion that the present mode of taxing is not by any means an equal and impartial one.

Boston, May 26.

Despatches from Washington to the evening papers say that the Republican Senators spent two hours in caucus this morning and concluded to vote for an adjournment of the Court of impeachment for four weeks from to-day, deferring a vote on the remaining articles of impeachment until the managers shall have completed the investigation now being made.

New York, May 26.

A Washington special says that it was a great disappointment to the crowds of listeners that Butler did not give the names of three Senators alluded to as being counted on by the corruptionists as suitable material to operate upon.

Another despatch says that no one here hearing to-day's report believes the President honestly acquitted. There is more testimony than that which came out to-day, and some of the most damaging to the President was not even alluded to. Sunset Cox swore that he was offered a fee to engage in this Senator-buying business, but although he declined to enter into such negotiation he continued to act to a certain extent with them.

The Committee on Senator Henderson's case have taken some damaging testimony to his honor. Four of the Missouri delegates swore that he told them he knew the President would make a Republican Cabinet and give all his patronage in Missouri to him for his friends and for his party. The Committee are now looking into some large Indiana contracts recently let out to friends and relatives of Mr. Henderson.

Willis Gaylord, brother-in-law of Senator Pomeroy, whom Mr. Cooper of the Treasury Department swore he was the party who tried to negotiate for Senator Pomeroy's vote, is here, and charges that the whole thing is a base forgery without foundation. It is also ascertained that in the conspiracy they used Pomeroy's name as a cypher for Senator Ross in the intention of covering up their tracks as they went along.

The Senate met at the appointed hour. Williams moved that the Senate proceed to vote on the 2d article which was agreed to, resulting as follows: Guilty, 35; not guilty, 19. Senators Fessenden, Fowler, Grimes, Henderson, Ross, Trumbull and Van Winkle voted not guilty. The rest voted as before.

NEWPORT, R. I., May 26.

Gen. Burnside was to-day inaugurated Governor for the third time. The military display which is customary on such occasions was nearly as large as usual despite the rain.

Chas. C. Van Zandt was re-elected Speaker of the House, and John Turner and Joshua Adderman, Clerks. Mr. Sherman was re-elected Clerk of the Senate. The Legislature will probably adjourn on Wednesday to meet in Providence on the first day of the coming week for the purpose of electing an United States Senator to succeed Gen. Sprague.

LATER FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, May 26.

The vote on the third article was the same as on the second—Guilty 35 not guilty 19.

RUTLAND, Vt., May 26.

Two ladies who were out boating on Black River, at Cavendish, last evening approached too near the dam, and becoming frightened attempted to save themselves by jumping overboard, but were both carried over the dam and drowned. Their names were Miss Ellen Casey and Mrs. Horatio Knight.

LATE FROM WASHINGTON.

After voting on the second and third articles, the Senate adjourned sine die. CINCINNATI, May 26.
John C. Heenan and about 300 arrived from N. Y., last evening, and another delegation of the Fancy of N. Y., are expected to-day. The odds on McCool have been taken up by Coburn's friends. The fight will come off near the line of the Ohio and Miss. R. R. Arrangements have been made for Barney Aron and Shepherd to fight in the same ring for 2,000 after the McCool and Coburn mill ends.
